Report of Inspector To Be Sent to Washington Office

SITES ARE OFFERED

Much Data To Support Claim for Office Is Presented

A full and comprehensive report on the needs of a new post office building in Canyon was compiled Tuesday by A. S. Page of Fort Worth, district inspector, for the post office department.

Mr. Page will send his report to Washington, indicating the business of the local office, the possibilities of the office, the number of customers, a report on the present equipment and possible needs for future equipment, average number of pieces of mail handled, number of patrons daily, and such other data regarding the business being transacted at the postoffice. Fostmaster Guy Harp, Mayor C. R. Burrow, Chamber of Commerce President J. H. Cox, Jr., R. A. Terrill, and others assisted in collecting this data.

In regard to the town, he carried a map showing the public buildings, the possible sites, pictures of the spots of interest in the city, and much data regarding the business interests of Canyon. Nearly a hundred pictures were included in the collection prepared of spots of interest in and around Canyon.

Options were taken by Mr. Page on seven sites which were offered for locations to the local committee headed by Clyde Warwick for the new building. Whether or not he will make a definite recommendation for the site was not disclosed.

While Mr. Page was not in position to make known his recommendations, he let it be known that Canyon was fortunate in making application at this time since the government contemplates a considerable building program under the new work program. His recommendations will go to Washington where they will be considered by the postoffice department in the light of the past business

McMinn Chosen as Most Valuable Man on Squad

Willie Boedeker of Lockney was elected captain of the 1936 Buffalo basketball team Monday night by vote of the eight letter men of the squad.

Edd McMinn of Hedley was named the most outstanding man of this year's squad. McMinn was captain of the 1935 team.

The annual banquet honoring the Buffalo basketball team was held at the Cafeteria at 7:30, attended by members of the Varsity team, the Freshman team, the Athletic committee, and a few guests.

D. A. Shirley, chairman of the athletic committee, presided at a short program following the dinner.

W. H. Blaine of Raton, N. M., former teacher in W. T. and one of the early coaches, told the squad of the early days in W. T. when the physical education department was carried on without equipment. Among the first equipment bought was the "horse" now in the gymnasium, and for lack of funds, this "horse" was bought and paid for out of the agriculture department fund. The physical education department stands for building of health and character, and leads to a greater understanding of life, stated the speaker.

President J. A. Hill complimented the squad upon the excellent season and urged the men to get acquainted with worthwhile people. The building of Buffalo Court would bring the men closer together, so they will understand each

337 Cars Enter Park For Week Ending Monday—17 States

The number of cars to visit the Palo Duro State Park increased this week when 337 cars entered the Park, as compared with 221 cars the week before. Nearly 100 cars from Canyon and Amarillo were at the opening of the lodge on Monday night, which were not counted in the total of the week.

Seventeen states outside of Texas were represented among the visitors at the Park. 6 were from Oklahoma; Wyoming, 2; New Mexico, 3; Indiana, 3; Ohio, 3; Missouri, 2; Arkansas, 3; Colorado, 2; one each from California, Kansas, Arizona, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, Florida, and Tennessee.

Work For New Period Gets Underway at Park

Approximately 200 more men will arrive at the two CCC camps at the Palo Duro State Park during this week to bring the two companies up to 240 men. The replacement of 67 men came last week to take the place of the negroes which were shipped to Sweetwater for the purpose of making the Palo Duro a white camp.

Word from Washington Tuesday indicates that the number of CCC camps will be increased over the United States. Facilities are ready for additional camps at the Palo Duro, and one or more companies may be assigned to this Park as a result of the increased number of units.

Major E. A. Kingsley has received orders to start buying necessary supplies to start on the construction work at the Park. No buying has been permitted since the last of March owing to the fact that the appropriation bill had not been passed. All men were requested to stay on the job, although no salaries were in sight until congress finally passed the President's work-relief bill. With this bill out of the way, no further interruptions are expected on the work at the Park.

Most of the work at the Park since the first of the month has of necessity been confined to the road into the canyon since this required little materials.

Red Cross Man Tells of Work In Life Saving

Members of the executive committee of the American Red Cross attended a luncheon at the cafeteria Friday noon when Walter Hausknecht explained the work in which he was engaged. First Aid and Life Saving was started by the Red Cross at the request of industries. Mining was the first industry to ask for this service, and after the results became manifest, the work spread to other industries. Of the thousands of accidents each year, many could be avoided, and many lives could be saved by proper use of first aid.

The organization is working through the schools, YMCA, CCC, FERA, and Boy Scouts.

Mr. Hausknecht highly praised the facilities of W. T., and the prospects of tthe out of door pool under the new PWA grant.

Those attending the luncheon were: C. R. Burrow, chairman of the Red Cross Chapter, Miss Ruth Cross, D. A. Shirley, Clyde Warwick, C. I. Williams of Goodwell, Mitchell Jones, W. J. Wooten, Mrs. A. W. Sternenberg, Irby Carruth, Mrs. Ruby O'Keefe, Bob Cox, Miss Hellen Hickman, A. K. Goodman, Bob Clark of Wheeler, Grady Oldham and Coach Al Baggett.

APRIL 30 IS LAST DAY TO SECURE FUEL

Wind Erosion Work By Listing Started Friday

MANY SECURE AID

Free Fuel or Feed Is Offered Without Any Obligation

Money is available in Randall county for every farmer who will list his land in accordance with the wind erosion plan. Ten cents per acre for fuel or feed will be given the farmers free, but application must be made before next Tuesday night, April 30th.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch stated yesterday that practically 400 farmers had secured the free fuel or feed, and that he hoped every farmer in the county would avail himself of this offer before the time expired.

Meetings were held over the county this week in order that the farmers could attend from their various sections. These meetings were largely attended, and the program explained by Mr. Upchurch.

Those farmers who have not requested this free fuel or feed must come to the County Agent's office since no more meetings are scheduled. It is hoped that all of the farmers will call by Saturday since it is required that work shall start immediately and farmers will work every day until their listing is completed.

The present program is only a temporary one, states Mr. Upchurch. Congress passed a bill Tuesday setting up a permanent soil erosion program which will mean much more to the drouth section.

H. H. Finnell of Dalhart is general director of the work in this section for the permanent program, and if given a free hand for action, will be able to do a great work for the Panhandle in saving the soil from the ravages of the wind.

W. M. Burkes, state supervisor of the conservation service, was here Tuesday and set into action the plan to put on the contour work which was held up by the Texas Relief Commission. Randall county was among the first five counties which applied for this work, but the application was either held up, or fhisplaced at Austin. J. W. Spencer has been named by Mr. Upchurch as his assistant in this work.

President Roosevelt is determined to ban politics from relief agencies and those who handle all government funds. He has tackled the almost impossible task. If the President could personally supervise all phases of government work, it might be possible to eliminate politics. But authority must be delegated, and in this delegation of power each little man suddenly sees himself a great factor in the government's program. Unfortunately the government has to rely very largely for the execution of its relief program upon its agents who are largely themselves victims of the depression, and as a result the President does not have the best talent in carrying out his program. Few persons can stand authority. Most persons swell up with self-importance when intrusted with a little authority. That is the reason that most folks get disgusted when they have to deal with agents of the government.

"New Taxes or Economy—Which?"heads an article in the Texas Weekly. Various political leaders are quoted to show that there is no need for additional new taxes, if the present budget of the state is carefully spent. The average citizen screams out that the state is wasteful in its appropriations, but pin him down to facts and he is unable to say where a single penny could be saved. Financing a big state like Texas, with its many varied interests is a big job. More and more people are demanding an increased service from the state. Departments are increased at every session of the legislature—all being demanded by the people of the state. The state and its departments should be most economical, to be sure, but how can it operate on less money when the people are demanding that more departments be added?

General Hugh Johnson has come to the aid of NRA, and urges that it be continued. He shoulders all of the mistakes which were made, and asks that congress not charge them against NRA. NRA is like all prohibitive laws—tell people that they cannot do things, and a lot will set out to show you that they can do it. NRA started out with too large a program to ever succeed as the administration pictured that it might. The chiseler is in every line of business, who believes that he knows more than the combined brains of all others engaged in like pursuit. While most business men admit that NRA has been considerably of a wash out, yet the idea behind the movement was good, and at least took the minds of people off their immediate trouble at a time when relief of tension was a very necessary thing.

The dust campaign under the head of soil erosion will be a permanent policy of the government. The natural resources of the nation have been badly neglected in times past. Erosion is the greatest danger facing the nation today, since the food supply of coming generations is involved. Possibly had it not been for the terrific winds of this spring, nothing would have been done in the middle west this year regarding this great waste of the soil. After all the evil winds of 1935 may have blown something good to those who live in the west, and those who will live in the west in years to come.

President Roosevelt again won in his program by the passage of his social security bill through the House of Representatives. Instead of a pension of $200 per month for old age, the bill calls for $15 per month for the aged, jobless, children and mothers. The states must add an equal amount to the $15 appropriated by the federal government. While many who had visions of a large amount of money to spend monthly will be embittered in this bill, they will find after due reflection that it is as good as the government could hope to do by those in distress.

A joke is being attempted on the conservative counties of Texas in a bill in the legislature to increase the gasoline tax in order to pay for bonds on the lateral roads of the big counties. The small counties have not voted such bonds, but most of the large counties have, and are now trying to dump the financial obligation on those counties which derive no benefits from this type of road. The adjournment of the legislature on May 7th will kill a lot of such fool bills.

Texas used to boast about having two governors for the price of one; but last week the state had the distinction of having three governors within the course of four days.

The weatherman says that the dust storms are practically over. We recall four years ago old timers said that dust storms never occurred in the Panhandle as they did in the good old days.

Another project for W. T. has been approved by PWA. When the five projects get underway, they will be of great aid to local workmen who need jobs.

Swiped from a Kansas newspaper:

Now I lay me down to snore,
With lots of dust in every pore,
And if the dawn I fail to see
They don't have to bury me.

Rural Electrification

The many advantages of developing a rural electrification program in our section, using the enormous gas output of the Panhandle field as a means of power, can be visualized in the progress already made in the water-power program of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Building of power lines into the rural sections there has already brought a marked advancement in farm life, and has acquainted the farmer with the many possibilities which electricity holds for him.

A typical example of the development of electrical service by the Tennessee Valley Authority can be found in the work that has been done in Alcorn County, Mississippi. The details of the power set-up there are of especial interest.

For a number of years, the people of Corinth, in Alcorn County, owned the power plant, but later sold it to the Mississippi Power Company. Early in 1934, the Tennessee Valley Authority acquired a considerable amount of the power company's property, including the distribution system in and around Corinth.

The townspeople and farmers in the county organized a non-profit corporation and every consumer was eligible to membership. This corporation then entered into a contract with the Tennessee Valley Authority to buy electricity at wholesale rates from the plant at Muscle Shoals. The Authoriay agreed to transfer the county electric properties to the corporation at the price originally paid for these properties.

The consumer-owned corporation decided to charge the same rates to town and rural users, averaging the cost of the service over all the people of the county. The existing rates were cut in half, and were made to include a sufficient charge to help amortize payments on the system. All surplus above operating expense, interest, taxes and depreciation, and a certain reserve for new construction, was to be used to pay off the debt as quickly as possible.

The immediate response was remarkable. People had previously felt that they were not able to purchase electrical equipment because of the high rates, and had kept their consumption of electricity at a minimum, but with the advent of the new service, they began to buy these conveniences. Consumption of electricity rose, and farmers on new rural lines were served for the first time. After only three months of operation, the corporation had over $6,000 on hand to pay on its indebtedness and on new lines thruout the county, after taking care of all other expenses.

At the present rate that electricity is being used in Alcorn County, it is estimated that the corporation will have paid off its total indebtedness in about five years, including the cost of new lines being built for it by the Authority. It was estimated when the corporation was being formed that at least twelve years would be required to care for the indebtedness. And all of the surplus goes back to the consumers, either in reduced rates or in increased conveniences and service.

The success of the electrification program in Alcorn County is merely one example of the work being done by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

In our own section, we have a vast gas field covering 1,300,000 acres of land, equalling many times all the water power of the Tennessee Valley. At the present time, thousands of dollars are being lost each day in the immense volume of gas being blown into the air. Here is potential power which could be harnessed to serve the Panhandle region in such a way that the individual citizen, whether he lives in town or country, can share in the benefits.

Nine Pass Red Cross Examiners Test Given Here

Nine athletes and physical training teachers who had qualified as Senior Red Cross Life Savers, had an opportunity Friday and Saturday to take the test necessary to become a Life Saving Examiner. Those who passed the examination are:

Professors Ruth Cross and Mitchell Jones, and Bob Clark from Wheeler, and Jimmie Holston, Helen Gill, Theodore Martin, Ashley Little, Wayne Miles. Two who have passed for the first time are: Phillis Holgate and Bob Clark from Wheeler.

The examination was conducted by Walter Hausknecht, a member of the staff of the First Aid and Life Saving Service, Red Cross Midwestern Area Headquarters, in St. Louis, who made a special visit here for that purpose.

Each week 140 persons drown in the United States. Estimated fatal accidents show 7,400 drownings a year. If this appalling number of fatalities should occur on any given date or be confined to any locality, the nation would be stunned by such a calamity. Yet the annual loss of life by drowning climbed nearly 1,000 from 1925 to 1932.

Red Cross first aid not only saves numerous lives each year, but proves its economic value as well.

The Red Cross Life Saving instruction courses emphasize not only methods of rescue and resuscitation, but also the dangers of swimming in hazardous ponds, pools and creeks where there is no supervision; in swimming alone; and in the attempted rescue of the drowning by any other than one qualified to perform a rescue.

The people who qualified in the examination given by Hausknecht are planning to give a Senior Red Cross Life Saving examination in the near future.

Ralph News

It was through the efforts of Mrs. O. B. Vaughan that the Work Awhile-Play Awhile community club was organized one afternoon last July at the home of Mrs. W. A. Cates. Mrs. Vaughan was made president of the club. Our semimonthly meetings have been a source of joy to the thirty charter members. We have enjoyed exchanging new ideas which have been helpful to each other in home and community work. Mrs. Vaughan was thoroughly alive to the one big need of our community. Her sincere spirit, ever-ready to help in time of need will remain in the hearts of those endeared to her as a beacon light to "carry on" in that which she founded. Her high ideals and untiring efforts have made many goals that will yield its influence to be felt in the years to follow. —Reporter.

Shower Thursday With Another Big Duster Yesterday

Showers visited many sections of the Panhandle last Thursday evening, but only .05 of an inch hit Canyon. However, several sections of the county received good rains. A few miles west of Canyon the rain amounted to an inch.

The people of the Plains rejoiced over the fact that no dust storms visited this section following the showers until yesterday afternoon when another one came from the southwest.

At 3:30 the dust was so thick that street lights were turned on, but little wind was blowing here at the time.

Rain was promised for last night, which failed to show up. Cooler temperature followed the duster of yesterday.

Dr. M. A. Biggers was arrested Friday by United States Marshal Bill Lampe on the charge of violation of the Harrison narcotic act. Dr. Biggers made appearance bond for $1,500 and his case will be taken before the general grand jury this week, according to Mr. Lampe.

Canyon deserves the loyalty of all its citizens; when a community project is under way it is the duty of everyone to lend a hand.

The fellow who trades at home never has to do his kicking by mail. And then, on second thought, he has no reason to kick.

Our advice to the citizen who wants to put an end to gossip is not to be guilty of starting it.

MAVERICK CLUB

NUMBER TWO
Canyon, Texas

By Pat Noser

This place has been resembling Chicago in the days of Bill Thompson or Kansas City under Pendergrast. There has been some excitement over the elections.

The Citizens party charged the Independent party with unfair tactics in the pre-election campaign in the vote-getting process. We had to postpone the election a few days to allow the Citizens party some time to offset the intimidation, bribery methods, etc. of the Independents.

The Citizens charged that the Independents were giving candy for votes, and now the Citizens are buying candy. The election has been set for Wednesday. I hope that the Mavericks don't adopt the habit of being dilatory in their elections, but this first attempt has been a liberal education for them.

Coach Baggett was telling us the other day that we will have a new rock building constructed this summer just for us. It will be north of the present Buffalo Courts and will be built out of the same beautiful rock that the Courts are.

We have all our meetings in Burton Gym now, and it sure is nice. It has so many different things in it that we can do. We will hate to leave it, but it will be nice to have a real building of our very own. And then we can still come back to the gym to play games whenever we want to.

The Mavericks are sure glad for all these different projects that Coach Baggett is building, because we get to take part in every type of new activity provided. The latest is the outdoor swimming pool that the government has loaned the money for. The new pool will also be built out of rock, and will be ready next year. And some more handball courts are being built. With just a little more time we will have so many things to do and so many places to do them that we won't know what to do.

Biggers, Judge Williams, Charles Donnell, J. C. Line, Bill Hawkins, Jimmie Holston, G. T. Higgins, Thelma Callihan, Mrs. J. D. Gamble, Mable Mims, Glen Reeve and Frances Holman.

To a Queen's Taste

The world is at her feet when milady wears this quilted black crepe evening wrap, with its regal Elizabethan collar. In contrasting simplicity is the delightful white dinner frock of crepy satin, the beauty of which is enhanced by a wide gold kid belt. Wendy Barrie, screen star, is the model.

". . . . and the News delivers your 'store news' to HOMES like these."

It is in these homes that the vast majority of Canyon's "buying decisions" are made, whether the purchase be one directly concerning every member of the family or an individual purchase by an individual member of that family.

You as a merchant should therefore, be sure that your "store news" is being placed in the hands of ALL of these potential buyers BEFORE these family "buying decisions" have been reached. . . . To do so economically

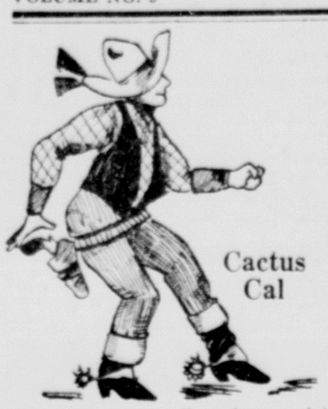
THE EAGLE'S TALE

VOLUME NO. 9 | CANYON, TEXAS, APRIL 25, 1935. | NUMBER 32



Boy, I've sure collected me a lot of pictures these last few days. The seniors I guess think they're sure pretty—anyway, they seem to be passin' out their pictures pretty freely.

Edith Steen had a picture of one of our handsome football heroes the other day. Somebody said it was flattering and Edith just rose up in blue smoke and she said it was not. She said it looked just like him.

I hear that the Seniors are going to get to go to visit Carlsbad Cavern over in New Mexico pretty soon. My, but I think that's nice. Why, even the P. T. A. has donated some money to help finance the trip. I just wish I was a Senior myself!

This Press Club seems to be gallavantin' around quite a bit—but of course its for educational purposes—mostly. They've got a trip planned over to Pampa this week end to some kind of Press Conference or something—and then what's best of all is that trip they've planned for Austin about May 2.

You know if Mr. Pope keeps on he's gonna have me thinkin' he drinks beer. At least he seems to know where it can be found. He seems to be gettin' a little farther from home though. The first time it was at Umbarger and now he's shifted way up to Milwaukie. Anyway he knows his places!

Well, it ain't going to be long now before school is out—and then you'll all get a nice long vacation. But right now's the time for study—eh?

GIRLS NEED MORE THAN HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION

You girls will walk across the stage this spring and get your diplomas. Then what?

No position in the commercial field could be obtained because of lack of that type of training in your high school course and lack of educational background to fit you for such a position.

You might say that marriage is the only career left to you, but even this isn't as successful as when the wife has had a higher education.

That is what college is for. To prepare you for your life's work, whatever it may be. It betters your qualifications in every respect.

Stop now and consider how beneficial college will be to you and what a waste of time your high school education will have been if you don't continue it and benefit from it.

Bill Shakespeare Sits Under Apple

Like William Tell's son, the bust of Shakespeare, perched high by the door of Mr. Pope's office in the hall of Canyon High School, had donned a bright red apple early in the morning.

The august genius looked out from underneath his unusual headdress with his benign and superior smile suddenly changed to what might be called the prelude of a rather silly giggle—Shakespeare looked as if he had been dissipating. Oh where, oh where had his lost dignity gone?

All day passed and few students observed the apple that beamed from Shakespeare's head.

The sun set; night came, and finally some seniors came to the high school for play practice.

Two bright-eyed girls noticed that the apple still remained cocked crazily on Shakespeare's curls. When no one was around, the girls slipped up to Shakespeare, and not having a crossbow, one girl used her hat, and with the deadly accuracy of William Tell, the apple fell into her hands.

Reports on Home Projects Made In Home Economics

In the home economics classes, the home project reports were turned in April 15.

One home project is turned in each semester. These are things done by each student as her home work. Several projects were dresses, pajamas, cooking, and making toys.

The project reports were written in theme form.

Of the reports of the second year girls, the five best were taken, and these were voted on by the classes. These reports were Evelyn Cluck's on a dress she made over for her sister; Marielle Oldham, selection and arrangement of a bed room suite; Gerald Dean Heath, fixing over a bedroom; Chloie Hail, papering the kitchen; and Wilma Cofer, cleaning up the front room wall paper.

Wilma Cofer's paper won first and Marielle Oldham's second.

Mary Charlotte Word's paper won first and Marie O'Donald's second in the first year. Mary Charlotte's project was planning, preparing and serving of a Saturday night supper. Marie's was selection and making of curtains for the front room.

The winning papers will be sent to Lillian Peak, state supervisor. She is using home project reports for publicity broadcasts for the state program of home making education.

Among this collection was a green cocoanut and a crude face carved from a cocoanut by a Japanese of Florida. Mr. Orton showed the group many kinds of shells which he gathered along the gulf coast.

He had a large number of post cards of the different places of interest which he showed the class as he talked about these places.

B, Poor B, Is Dead

B is dead!

For three years, B was the faithful roommate and companion of one of Canyon High School's faculty members.

B was always understanding and subject to moods of vivacity. For the antics of these earthly creatures, she wore always that inquisitive, forgiving look in her eyes that has endeared her to so many.

But, alas!

Four Grade Rooms Celebrate Easter During Last Week

Easter parties were in motif during the past week.

Saturday morning at ten o'clock Miss Gwendolyn Black's third grade pupils, accompanied by ten mothers and Miss Black motored to the Harrell ranch north of Claude for an all-day picnic and Easter egg hunt. The eggs had been hidden before the children's arrival and the twenty-five boys and girls spent an hour searching the hills for their treasure. At one o'clock a picnic lunch was served to the members of the party. After lunch the children hunted eggs again and played in the white sand in the creek-bed.

Lemonade and cookies were served to the members of the party before their return to Canyon.

The mothers and friends who chaperoned the children were: Mrs. R. E. Harter, Mrs. W. P. Sharman, Mrs. A. L. Walsh, Mrs. W. D. Pike, Mrs. A. R. Speck, Mrs. Newton Harrell, Miss Jonnie Courtney, Mrs. J. L. Hammond, and Miss Gwendolyn Black.

4B Easter Party

The 4B had an Easter party. They played games, told stories, and made baskets of bright colored paper which they filled with Easter eggs. They were given to them by Mrs. Isabelle Cousins. Chocolate Easter eggs with their names on them were served by Mrs. R. W. Johnson, their room mother.

Mrs. Murrell's Room Surprised

The pupils of Mrs. Stella Murrell were surprised when their room mother, Mrs. Wilford Taylor, brought each child an Easter basket filled with beautiful eggs and candy rabbits. The teacher was remembered with a box of chocolates.

2B Easter Party

Students of 4B gave Mrs. Isabelle Cousins, their teacher, and Mrs. R. W. Johnson, room mother, a surprise fruit and cake shower Monday morning.

DETENTION

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
How to miss Detention we have this year.
Each afternoon from three 'til four
Unfortunate students must study some more
For misconduct they pay a price very dear.

Paper wads will get you there fast,
As will chewing gum and talking in class.
Avoid being late and absent too,
Or by your name will be a two;
Two long, weary hours that means for you—
Heed these cautions and beware
Or, my children, you'll soon be there!

—Mary May Harrison.

Good-bye
to sooty pots and pans

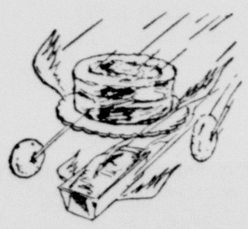
"Electric cooking is clean!" This statement probably has a greater appeal for most women than anything else we could say about electric cooking. All the actual burning of fuel is done in the power house far from your home.

Safety
A word to mothers

If there are children in your home your cooking methods assumes a greater importance than perhaps you had ever expected. No mother needs to be told that heat from a glowing wire is safer than heat from an open flame.

The New Waldorf
gives you cooking at its best

Women who have just experienced for the first time the thrill of cooking by electricity say they had never dreamed that the kind of range could make so much difference in the quality of their cooking. Whether you bake, or roast, or broil, the Waldorf oven turns out food with a flavor and tenderness not even approached by any other form of cooking.



Electric Cooking
is fast

In designing the Waldorf Electric Range, cooking speed was given first consideration. The main purpose was to provide a cooking device that would be as far ahead of ranges already on the market as the modern motor car is ahead of the horseless carriage.

Application of the new 'ultimate' electric rate makes electric cooking cost you little additional, if any, to your present service bill.

Work at Dreamland Cemetery is progressing rapidly and the Shrubbery Committee wishes to thank all who have co-operated in any way in the beautification program.

The committee asks that anyone who has anything they wish to plant in the Cemetery drives or parkways, let Mr. Stuart supervise such work so that the landscaping may be carried out as planned.

of Canyon, and the possibilities of developing future business.

It is very likely that local citizens will be called upon to donate all or a large part of the purchase price of any location which is decided upon, according to statement of Mr. Page.

With the large amount of federal buildings in progress and in prospect, Mr. Page was unable to state when the citizens of Canyon might expect a reply to the report which he will file with his depratment.

UNDERWENT OPERATION

C. Wesley Batchelder was brought home from Amarillo Tuesday morning where he underwent an operation last week. He will be confined to his home for another week.

Ray Robbins and Elmer Moore of Olton were week end guests in the home of Mrs. Earl Robbins.

Rogers Announces As Candidate For the State Senate

Possibly the first definite political announcement comes from B. L. Rogers, State Representative from the 124th district, that he will be a candidate to succeed Senator Clint Small if the present senator does not ask for re-election, or should decide to remove from the district. Senator Small's term expires next year. He has been offered positions with law firms in both Houston and San Antonio.

Mr. Rogers writes that he will make the race for the senate. He has been interested and sponsored the legislation for conservation of gas together with other Northwest Texas representatives. He introduced and sponsored the legislation for soil erosion, based upon his study of the Kansas law. He induced Governor Allred to call Washington asking for the half million dollars now being spent on wind erosion. He took up the idea of a pipe line to the east several months before it was openly advocated in order to make possible the sale of natural gas from the Panhandle. He has worked for the benefit of all institutions in this section.

the opening of the fall session.

The contract for building the men's dormitory has been approved in Washington and the money sent to the Federal Reserve Bank at San Antonio. As soon as President Henry Paulus and Secretary H. A. Turner of the Board of Regents secure this money, work may be started on the dormitory.

It is likely that bids will be called for the erection of the addition to Cousins Hall in a very short time, since the Board of Regents signed the bonds and sent them to PWA at Washington last Monday.

The other two projects which have been approved are the erection of a Home Economics demonstration cottage, and a group of small cottages for students.

Dr. Hill states that all of the projects are being handled as fast as PWA can possibly handle them, considering the vast amount of work being conducted by this department.

Hi-Y Boys Bring Message to Rotary Luncheon

Hi-Y boys under the direction of A. K. Goodman brought a message of the workings of their organization, and its aims to the Rotary Club luncheon, Tuesday. The program was in charge of the Membership Committee, Lee Johnson, chairman.

A. G. Thornton, Brynilde Vaughan, Glen Davis, Billy Norman, Egbert Neelley told of the club and its work here. The club was organized for the purpose of developing Christian character among boys. They are of the age which spans the period between childhood and manhood. A well rounded program, leading to Christian living is brought to the boys.

The need of leadership among the men of the community, and their sympathy was stressed by the boys. Examples of what men in other communities were doing for boys were presented. The fact that so many boys in Canyon have been convicted of crime leads to the conclusion that the men of the community are not doing their part in directing the youth to higher ideals.

The need of a building for Hi-Y work was stressed by the various boys in order to develop the ideals of the club.

W. A. Warren announced that a Community Day would be observed in Canyon, May 25th. The Rotary Club through the program committee will work with the Chamber of Commerce in developing the day.

J. H. Cox, Jr., announced the opening of the soft ball season Tuesday afternoon. Six teams will form a league to play during the season, and a tournament will be held in the fall with teams from other towns.

Visitors present were: W. S. Norman, Ed Brownee, W. W. Kelley, H. B. Lautz, all of Amarillo; Howard Finch of Canyon.

The nominating committee announced a selection of officers for the coming year, and the election will be held next Tuesday.

Football Sweaters Formally Presented To Boys Friday

Although received a little late, the football players of West Texas State Teachers College are enjoying their football sweaters which were awarded last Friday just as much as if they had had them all year.

When the sweaters were first received, there had been a mistake in the arrangement of the letter, and the sweaters had to be sent back for adjustment.

And fate smiled when the sweaters came back. After a very mild winter, the weather turned cool the day after the sweaters were awarded and allowed every new letterman to show off.

Sweaters were awarded to the following men: Three year letters, Captain John Walker and Cagle Teague; two year letters, Jimmie Holston and Manager Gerald Brown; one year, John Rankin, Leo Jackson, R. D. Wheelock, Frank Van Noy, Vernon Johnson, Stina Cain, Clinton Meek, Ezell Champion, John Lee, Bill Allen, Jack Davis, Emil Hutto, and R. M. Thompson.

CARD OF THANKS

May we take this means of thanking our friends for the words of sympathy and the many kindnesses shown us during our recent bereavement. You have surely made our sorrow easier to bear because of them.

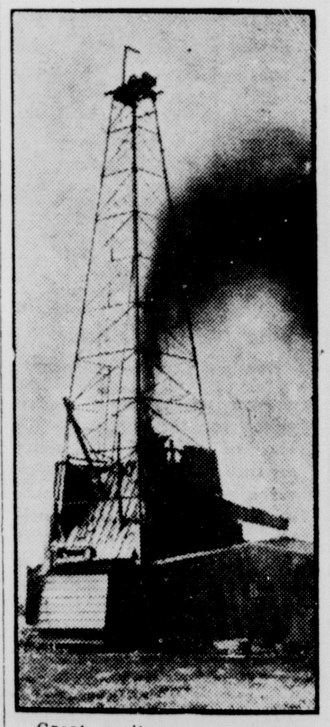
While Michigan 'Gusher' Raged



Great excitement reigned in Crystal, Mich., when an oil well, first in the county, suddenly began spouting, as shown above. The gusher bathed the landscape in oil for hours before it was capped.
